Astralive

Marc Hudson

Beneath the darkness of infinity
The minds of man kneel before its cosmic mystery
Silent we drift alone through space and time
Waiting for a sign, hear us tonight

A flash of thunder, the skies ignite
Cascading colours, rain down from on high
A sea of stars foretold in tales gone by
Shall descend upon this night

Stand before the lunar prophecy
Revealed tonight for all to see
The astronomic revelry begins now

Behold the night comes alive
We can light up the fire that burns deep inside us
Far away astral sight
We can light up the darkness that's buried deep inside us
Forever and ever more
Reborn we'll take the world

Witness the fire, behold the light
Spiraling higher, eclipsing the night
The writing of the stars will guide our way
Just as night will dance with the day

Let time forgo our temporal legacy
Tonight we'll re-write history
And reclaim mankind's destiny
Among the stars

Behold the night comes alive
We can light up the fire that burns deep inside us
Far away astral sight
We can light up the darkness that's buried deep inside us
Forever and ever more
Reborn we'll take the world

Come alive falling star, shine forever
May your undying truth hold the answer
Sound the drums tonight, we'll end the cries forevermore
As we reach for the realm beyond

Here I stand at the edge of eternity
Flying higher than heaven for all to see
Hear all around echoes of the brave
Who died for us to see this day

Behold the night comes alive
We can light up the fire that burns deep inside us
Far away astral sight
We can light up the darkness that's buried deep inside us
Forever and ever more
