Dreaming again Warm in your arms Sing me a song Beautiful sound And you love me With your sleepy eyes But you're not around I'm riding a ghost You're already gone And I wake up to a cold day Just another in a long line of cold days Clear as a bell There in my bed Holding your hands Beautiful hands And you love me With your sleepy eyes But you're just a dream I'm walking alone And I should have known You'd find another soul mate I'm just another in a long line of soul mates
