

Christ

Margot & the Nuclear So and So's

Jesus breaks your heart every night when he doesn't come.
All alone, wine bottles and chrome,
I got nothing in my bag for you but fire from the sky.

He wants to know your shoe size,
and all the weird shit in your brain,
he's gonna wash it away with blood.

But he breaks your heart every night when he doesn't come

Mary steal the car, drive it off with the carnival.
I could pray, I could beg you to stay, but I won't.

Tell him what you like, he wants to know your dark side, and all the weird shit in your brain, he's gonna wash it away with blood.

But he'll break your heart every night when he doesn't come.

Tell me what you like, come on and flash me those blue eyes, and all the weird shit in your brain, I'm gonna wash it away with blood.

But you break my heart every night when you fall apart.
Every night when you fall apart.
Every night when you fall apart.
