

The Lies Of Handsome Men

Maria Muldaur

I believe in star signs
And I believe in film romances
I believe in fantasy
And I believe with just one glance
He's crazy for my eyes
'Cause I believe the lies of handsome men

I believe in angels
And I believe in Cinderella
I believe in gypsies
And I believe I cast a spell that sends him to the skies
'Cause I believe the lies of handsome men

Somewhere in the corner of my mind
I'm not a fool, completely blind
Even though he's hooked me on his line
I find the pleasure's been mine

I believe in love songs,
They seem to know just what I'm feeling
I believe Prince Charming
I never guess he's double dealing
How my spirits rise
Believing in the lies of handsome men

Somewhere in the corner of my mind
I'm not a fool, completely blind
Even though he's hooked me on his line
I find the pleasure's been mine

I believe in love songs,
They seem to know just what I'm feeling
I believe Prince Charming
I never guess he's double dealing
How my spirits rise
Believing in the lies of handsome men

Someday I'll get wise
But right now I need the lies of handsome men
