Mariah the Scientist

You mean to tell me that it was nothing special to you
I should have left you when I knew the truth
Was too hard to just express it to me
Maybe confessions can be things your baby mama would've stressed

Just confess it all to me
If I could see through walls I could see you're faking on me
Just confess it all to me
Why you gotta make it so hard, baby?

Why you never call me?
Middle of the desert staring at the sunlight (sunlight)
Tell me that you're sorry (yeah)
See you and I rev'd, pulled up at the red light (red light)
Driving a Ferrari, told you it was destined, knew you in my past life
Seen you in the party, never would have thought it would have been the last time
I meant to tell you that we really coulda made it
Only if you hadn't played it like you did
I swore my life was over when you chose her
Having a hard time being sober
Mama said don't let this shit get to my head (to my head)

Just confess it all to me
If I could see through walls I could see you're faking on me
Just confess it all to me (me)
Why you gotta make it so hard, baby?

I was smoking
I was hoping you, wouldn't ask me about that other bitch
Lying like I don't even know that other bitch
I hide my phone 'cause, girl, I know I've been loving you wrong
Text message you, "I'm coming home" when I'm not coming home and shit
So alone you get cold and emotionless, I'm too old for this Preoccupied with my new Ferrari doing 185
So if I crash and burn, baby, just leave me inside
Because I put you through fire, put you through hell
I shot you down, you took them shells for me
I fucked around, you took that L for me
You still fell for me, so who gon' care for me like you do?
Nobody there for me like you, baby
Under your spell like I'm a voodoo doll
Incantations and I move, baby
'Cause you can't stay thinkin' of all the empty promises that I forgot, yeah
So tell me it's my fault, tell me when I'm wrong

Just confess it all to me (confess it all to me)
If I could see through walls I could see you're faking on me
(I can see it all, you're faking on me)
Just confess it all to me (confess it all to me)
Why'd you have to fake it?
Why'd you have to make it so hard on me?

On me?
On me? On
On me?
On me? On
