

Eternal Flame

Mariah the Scientist

I blurred the lines
Followed a stranger past the vines
There were flowers hanging birds a flying (Mine)
Still it's true nature was a disguise
I was hypnotized

Then I felt a change
There were winds a racing and raging tides
And then I sensed the danger from up behind
When I turned to face it to my surprise
A familiar vice

Oh no, you know
The two of us just can't be tamed
Starting to think this thing is just a running game
Of love with you
A match I know the heavens made
Starting to think this thing is an eternal flame
That burns for us

I saw the signs
I tried pretending
I was blind
Stayed so persistent with all my lies
You grew suspicious I couldn't hide
You saw it in my eyes

So I turned away
Too late
Now it's on my face
Now it's on my mind
Can't fight the fate
When it's by design
Ain't no escaping
It all reminds me
Of when you were mine
Oh no, you know

The two of us just can't be tamed
Starting to think this thing is just a running game
Of love with you
A match I know the heavens made
Starting to think this thing is an eternal flame
That burns for us

And you know I can't Can't stay away from you too long
You and I
Always had a place we belonged
And I can try
But I, I just, I just can't stay away, aye

Oh no, you know
The two of us just can't be tamed
Starting to think this thing is just a running game
Of love with you
A match I know the heavens made

Starting to think this thing is an eternal flame
That burns for us
