

Mistaken

Marian Hill

I been tryna wipe you outta my mind
Begging you to call me some other time Looking in the rearview hoping that I leave you behind

Thinking bout the things I know I should do Thinking bout how I don't ever need you Thinking bout you daily Thinking maybe you should come through

I been tryna shake it
But I know
There ain't no mistakin'

Thought I could deny this craving, caught me gazing, now I'm caving in Thought that I could break it,
but I think you know
There ain't no mistakin'

I been tryna kick you outta my head Loving all the extra space in my bed Falling into daydreams
Then I think about what you said

"Girl you got that high-life, double-time swing and I'm like a low-key, summertime drink Don't know how to fight it Tell me baby what do you think?"

I been tryna shake it
But I know
There ain't no mistakin'

Thought I could deny this craving,
caught me gazing, now I'm caving in
Thought that I could break it
But I think you know
there ain't no mistakin'

Tried so hard to get free, breaking with the current, put up my guard, couldn't see
We were right in front of me

I can't sleep, can't you see?
Baby what you do to me Tried so hard
Now I see

I been tryna shake it
But I know
There ain't no mistakin'

Thought I could deny this craving,
caught me gazing, now I'm caving in
Thought that I could break it

But I think you know
there ain't no mistakin'
