File It Under Fun From The Past

Marianne Faithfull

Do you remember me?
Do you remember anything?
Don't pretend I didn't make you laugh
File it under fun from the past

Well, I'm looking 'round the room Some of the people I've loved Guess I remember everything File it under fun from the past

I could have been a contender - a contender for your love

I would have given you everything if I only knew how I would have given you everything if I only knew how, only knew how

I could have been a contender - a contender for your love

File it under fun from the past File it under fun from the past

It was only you; it was always only you I never saw what other people bought I never cared what they thought Well, I'm looking 'round the room Some of the people I've loved Guess I remember everything File it under fun from the past

Do you remember me?
Do you remember anything?
Don't pretend that it'll make you laugh
File it under fun from the past

Well, I'm looking 'round the room Some of the people I've loved Guess I remember everything File it under fun from the past
