Morning Sun

Marianne Faithfull

I see the morning sun Coming over the hill, Sorrow and pain for me Coming over the hill.

I'm very sad Lost love for me But I will love again.

I know a man Who breaks every heart that he can. I know him well For I have been hurt by this man.

I'm very sad, Tears follow me, But I will love again.

I'm very sad, Tears follow me, But I will love again.

I know a man Who promises that he'll be true And I look back once again, Well, what else could I do ?

I'm very sad But he is true And we will love again.

I see the morning sun Coming over the hill. I see him and he says That he'll stay And he will.

I'm sad no more, He comforts me And we will love again.
