There Is A Ghost

Marianne Faithfull

There is a ghost And it goes out On the land On the land It's lifted up It feels and flows On many hands On many hands

Oh, my lover Oh, my lover Never was there another Where has my loverman Gone

There is a dream You've had before And forgot many times So many times

When you remember who I am Just call When you remember who I am Just call When you remember who I am Just call When you remember who I am

There is a tree Its leaves have gone For what it seem It stands alone

Oh, my lover Oh, my lover Gonna, gonna find another Where has my loverman Gone

Away Away Across the land Across the land Across the land
