

All I Need

Maribou State

All I need is your love
All I need is your love
Oh, all I need is your love
All I need is your love

Did I ever really need you?
You're someone that I could love
Take my hand in the morning
It's something that I would know
Something that I've been knowing

Lying here in the moment
Without being alone
It's you I've been calling
When I'm feeling at home
When I'm feeling at home

All I need is your love
All I need is your love
Oh, all I need is your love
All I need is your love

Did I ever really hold on?
I just can't explain
But all the light is fading
And It won't be the same
No, it won't be the same
And I'm chasing the moment
On my own
Hold on when I'm falling
With everything I've known
Everything I've known

It's a long long way from here
It's a long long way from here
It's a long long way

All I need is your love
All I need is your love
Oh, all I need is your love
All I need is your love
