Miss You Nights

Marie Osmond

I've had many times
I can tell you
When more than anything
I needed company
And children saw me cry
I thought I'd had my share of that
But these miss you nights
Oh, they're so lonely

Midnight diamonds in the heavens
Only know how much
I miss your sweet embrace
And the warm winds that caress me
Just as surely kissed your face
Yeah, these miss you nights
Oh, they're so lonely

How I miss you
No, words could ever tell
And these lonely nights
Bring emptiness I know so well
All my secrets are just wasted memories
You're gone from me

Thinking of your going
How could you cut the threads
And leave me here behind?
Looking windward for my comfort
I'll take each day as it arrives
But these miss you nights
Oh, are so lonely

Forget our thoughts of love we shared so tender
It's gone, I know it's gone this time
Forget our dreams and things we once remembered
It's just the same this miss you pain

You know, thinking of your going
How could you cut the threads
And just leave me here behind?
Oh, I keep hoping for some comfort
I'll take each day as it arrives

Oh, but these miss you nights
Oh, are so lonely
