

Blood

Marika Hackman

Silence
Turn the light on
Hear the growing pains
Oh you're so much bigger now
See my brow is blistered nylon
All your pain I'm holding off
Can you feel my breaking arms?

'Cause you want to drink my blood
Is it true, do you think you're in love?
To be an inversion of reality
And see how you magnify this side of me

I can't feel
My fate is sealed
I signed my deal with blood

Silence
Keep the light off
We can fumble in the dark
For the perfect epitaph
Pin me down on heavy on paper
Hang it up against the wall
And pretend I'm still alive

'Cause you want to drink my blood
If it's true, do you think you're in love
To be an inversion of reality
And see how you magnify this side of me

I don't believe you're having fun
I can't rely on anyone
I won't be holding you for long
Don't hold on
I don't believe you're having fun
I can't rely on anyone
I won't be holding you for long
Don't hold on
