

The New Kings (IV) Why Is Nothing Ever True?

Marillion

Remember a time when you thought that you mattered, Believed in the school song, die for your country - a country t hat cared for you
All in it together?
If it ever was more than a lie or some naive romantic notion
Well, it's all shattered now
It's all shattered now

Why is nothing ever true?
Why is nothing ever true?
Why is nothing ever true?
Why is nothing ever true?

Well do you remember a time when you thought you belonged to so mething more than you?
A country that cared for you
A national anthem you could sing without feeling used or ashame d
You poor sods have only yourselves to blame
On your knees, peasant
You're living for the New King
You're living for the New King
You're living for the New King
