

If You Ever Change Your Mind

Marion Aunor

There was once a time
When I thought of no one else but you
You'd look into my eyes
And I'd see the whole world
In front of me
We were perfect for each other
No one else would dare compare, no
Thought that we were steadfast
But feelings don't last
Oh no, no
But if you ever change your mind
Don't you dare come back to me cryin'
I want you back again
Cause oh what we had was more than fine
I needed someone who would love me
More than he loved himself
You said you'd never lie
That you'd never make me cry, my dear
Did you mean every word you said
Or were you messin' with my head
All these years
Were we perfect for each other
Or was this all just pretend, ohh?
Seems it ended so fast
But feelings don't last, oh no, no
But if you ever change your mind
Don't you dare come back to me cryin'
I want you back again
Cause oh what we had was more than fine
I needed someone who would love me
More than he loved himself
More than he loved himself
Himself, himself
But if you ever change your mind
Don't you dare come back to me cryin'
I want you back again
Cause oh what we had was more than fine
I needed someone who would love me
More than he loved himself
