

Second Best

Mark Ambor

You say there's nothing I should worry about
But I have no choice
My insecurities are gettin' loud
Tryna block their noise

Just a moment, nothing major
Say he's now another stranger
Can I ask, does he still find his way back in?

Does he ever sneak inside
In the backdoor of your mind?
Tell me I should put my fear to rest
You know I don't wanna be your second best
When you lock the gate
Does he climb the fire escape
Jealousy is making me a mess
You know I don't wanna be your second best

Do you greet him when he comes around
The way you greet me
Is there something that you're thinking about
That he had and I'm missing

Just a moment, nothing major
Say he's now another stranger
Can I ask, does he still find his way back in?

Does he ever sneak inside
In the backdoor of your mind?
Tell me I should put your fear to rest
You know I don't wanna be your second best
When you lock the gate
Does he climb the fire escape?
Jealousy is making me a mess
You know I don't wanna be your second best

If there's something I should change
I'll make the change for you to stay
Mm, or am I just going insane
Overthinking everything?

Does he ever sneak inside
In the backdoor of your mind?
Just tell me I should put my fear to rest
You know I don't wanna be your second best
