

Don't Tell

Mark Battles

Yeah...

I will just let the uhm...

Let the beat talk to you for a second

Just take it all in

Uh

Look, look

Get on Instagram, see my old chick a stripper now

She different now and everybody say she get around

But it's cool, I ain't judging you

Gotta pay them bills, respect yo hustle, boo it's nothing new

One of few, two of many, shoulda known from all the naked pictures you were sendin'

Feelin' empty, was it my fault?

Maybe I made you too comfortable, those are my thoughts

My mind lost, yo guy how much does time cost

Can I get another 10 fore I die off?

Cause tomorrow ain't promised

Went to record when I could've went to college

Now we the big 3 and none of us is Chris Bosh'in

Quit joshin', honest I'm just rhyming on the beat

And you think that I'm a visionary

Little do you know, the mean life getting scary

Losin' faith, half my heart is in the cemetery

Question why we here, tryin' to handle stress

Will it ever disappear?

Failure to my children is the only thing I fear

Return to cloud 9 when I hear my fans cheer

In a thing, 2 years ago I had to wash up in a sink

No hot water, it was cold enough to drink

Two pair of pants, take em off when they stink

When they stink

Lived in a studio for 6 months

Me and my girl on the couch and she ain't tripped once

Couldn't count how many times we had to skip lunch

Always searchin' for some change I could dig up

Livin off 1 mill a day

Those are memories that I wanna seal away

I'm never going back to that, I promise you

I don't care what I gotta do

Don't doubt the heart of a man

Doin' what I can just to market a plan

20h days then start up again

Work myself to death, goin' hard as I can

I can

Don't judge a man by his status or judge all his decisions

Haters always lurkin', be observin' from a distance

I servin' out permission to further doubt my vision

So be of credit, why?

Cause it motivate me

My son' mom pray he grow to hate me

I'm going crazy

You don't wanna save me

A different day, a different hotel

Let's get away and get a hotel

Pay for yo hair and yo nails

Oh well just blow a kiss and don't tell

Oh well just blow a kiss and don't tell
Don't tell
Shh

Don't forget it
It ain't where you been, it's about where you headed
Where you headed
Where you headed
And you gotta keep it separate
Won't get to you less you let it
Unless you let it
Unless you let it
