And you learnt it all when you were five holding your breath you gott a stay alive escape from the heat under the fire, learning to love our Uncle Sam

You love the girl who love the man, who slipped away under the sign open your eyes I bet you'd understand, who broke your back, the ginge rman

The sign on the door deserved a hand, holding your breath to be a man but down on the floor you'll realise the catterpillar-crawls and butterflies escape from the heat under the fire, I'm learning to love my Uncle Sa m

We are only learning to die (2x)

In demand, demand... (4x)

And we are only learning to die we are only learning to die we were barely learning to die
