

Ballad of a Dying Rover

Mark Lanegan

Girl, let me lay down with you
One more time
Ain't no surprise what I wanna do
I'm just a man, just a sick sick man

Girl, I wouldn't lie to you
Not one more time
Ain't no surprise though if I do
I'm just a man, just a sick sick man

I sit up on the graveyard wall
These grounds will be my bed
I look down upon it all
And wonder when, wonder when
Wonder when it's gonna end
My days are numbered
Eternal slumber
Death is my due

Girl, walk this long last mile with me
One more time
Who knows what there's left for us to see
I'm just a man, just a sick sick sick sick sick sick man
Death is my due

I wouldn't lie to you
Not one more time
Ain't no surprise though if I do
I'm just a man, just a sick sick man
My days are numbered
Eternal slumber
Death is my due
I'm just a man, just a sick sick man
Just a sick sick sick sick sick sick man

Baby, let me lay down with you
One more time
Ain't no surprise what I'm gonna do
My days are numbered
My days are numbered
Eternal slumber
Death is my due
I wanna lay down with you
One more time
Ain't no surprise that I do
I'm just a man, just a sick sick man
Yeah baby
I wanna stay down here with you
War all time
It ain't up to me what I'm gonna do
Just a sick, just a sick sick man
Who's days are numbered
Eternal slumber
And death is my due

Girl, let me lay down with you
One more time
One more time
One more time
One more time
Death is my due
Death is my due
Death is my due, yeah
Eternal slumber
Days are numbered
Death is my due, yeah
Just one more time
Just one more time
One more time, baby
Yeah
