

Save Defiance

Mark Morton

Into the last refrain
As your empire falls
World in decay
Our backs against the wall

Tell me now, is it too late?
Tell me now, who'll pay the cost
For all the times you've disengaged?
Tomorrow could be lost

Stop what you started
Open your eyes
The truth is the hardest thing to deny

Save defiance
And hope you've got one last shot
Blood of tyrants running cold
They will never stop
Save defiance
You alone will resist in time
Break alliance to behold shifting paradigms

There is no time to waste
This you can't deny
The truth you embrace was only just a lie

Now do you see you're betrayed?
Now you must keep your resolve
Or everything you sacrifice to keep
Will forever be dissolved

Stop what they started
Open your eyes
They're reaping a harvest
And bleeding you dry

Save defiance
And hope you've got one last shot
Blood of tyrants running cold
They will never stop
Save defiance
You alone will resist in time
Break alliance to behold shifting paradigms

This is your season
Take it and rise
The battle's dawning
Fight for your lives
(Backs against the wall)
(Backs against the wall)

Save defiance
And hope you've got one last shot
Blood of tyrants running cold
They will never stop
Save defiance
You alone will resist in time

Break alliance to behold shifting paradigms
