

The Never

Mark Morton

Dig myself out of the prison that we made
Tether the indignation to our passive rage
I know, I know better
So pin on your halo
And hide from your shadow
And practice everything you'll say

True time to find out who will rust
No one to trust
A crisis to deflect the blame
Bringer of death

Losing all of your life
Listen how the scream chokes to a whisper
Stand up and testify
Fear is just the lies born of the never

So truth can paralyze the distant staring grave
The loudest silence cracked with no recovery
Silver-line the lies
And pin on your halo
And revoke tomorrow
And regret everything you'll say

True time to find out who will rust
No one to trust
A crisis to deflect the blame
Bringer of death

Losing all of your life
Listen how the scream chokes to a whisper
Stand up and testify
Fear is just the lies born of the never

Messiah to reason
For all that you've lost
A gangrene, a cancer
Eating away at the soul
Suffering the one that's here
Destroying emotions
It's beating out of control

True time to find out who will rust
No one to trust
A crisis to deflect the blame

Losing all of your life
Listen how the scream chokes to a whisper
Stand up and testify
Fear is just the lies born of the never
