

Without the Pain

Mark Morton

Without the pain, I ain't dead behind my eyes
Just looking for a reason to apologize
For the sins of a man with the Devil on his shoulder
And a soul of stone that couldn't be colder

Somebody show me where this ends
Light up the darkness I've been in
Retrace the scars burned in my skin
So I can learn to live

Without the pain, I don't wake up to a war
Trying to twist another story just to get me out the door
Still running from the past like a hit that's chasing me
Can't fall out of love with my enemy

Somebody show me where this ends
Light up the darkness I've been in
Retrace the scars burned in my skin
So I can learn to live
Without the pain

Somebody show me where this ends
Light up the darkness I've been in
Retrace the scars burned in my skin
So I can learn to
So I can learn to live

Somebody show me where this ends
Light up the darkness I've been in
Retrace the scars burned in my skin
So I can learn to live
Without the pain
Without the pain
