

Gone, gone, gone

Mark Owen

Josephine

Did you get in all your thrills?
Did you manage to climb up the hill?
Was there water in the well?
I never thought that you'd leave me here
I never knew you that well at all

Josephine

In your pink pale dress
I see you standin' outside the church
You've got flowers in your hair
America, don't it break your heart
It's gonna some us time to heal
But she was too good for this world, yeah, I feel

And I can see the moon shinin'
Through the cracks outside the curtain
See you dancin' on the ceiling
I know that you're that you've gone, gone, gone

Josephine

There are places that you go
There are places that I've never been
Only on a silver screen
And I've been watchin' the dust settle down
Just to try and get away from it all

And I can see the moon shinin'
Through the cracks outside the curtain
See you dancin' on the ceiling
I know that you're that you've gone, gone, gone

How you gonna love me now?
Tell me how you gonna love me now?
Tell me how you gonna love me now?

Josephine

Oh, how you gonna love me now?
Tell me how you gonna love me now?
Tell me how you gonna love me now?

Josephine

It's been way too long since I last heard you sing

I can see the moon shinin'
Through the cracks outside the curtain
See you dancin' on the ceiling
I know that you're that you've gone, gone, gone
And I can see the moon shinin'
Through the cracks outside the curtain
See you dancin' on the ceiling
I know that you're that you've gone, gone, gone

Josephine

Did you get in all your thrills?
Did you manage to climb up the hill?
Was there water in the well?
