

Exhausted

Mark Tuan

Looking at the ceiling
While I lay by myself
It's lonely
If I needed all my friends
Will they be there to help
I'm not so sure

Do you really like me
I'll never know
When we're talking
No it doesn't feel like we're close
We've known each other forever so
I'm so confused
Don't know the truth

I'm so exhausted
From these walls around me
My friends are toxic
But they still make me happy
And I wonder if they feeling the same thing
Is it a disguise or we all just faking
I'm so exhausted
From these walls around me

Should I run away off in the distance
But I don't know where I would go
Say a lot but they don't ever listen
So I would rather stay at home

Do you really like me
I'll never know
When we're talking
No it doesn't feel like we're close
We've known each other forever so
I'm so confused
Don't know the truth

I'm so exhausted
From these walls around me
My friends are toxic
But they still make me happy
And I wonder if they feeling the same thing
Is it a disguise or we all just faking
I'm so exhausted
From these walls around me

I'm so exhausted
From these walls around me
My friends are toxic
But they still make me happy
And I wonder if they feeling the same thing
Is it a disguise or we all just faking
I'm so exhausted
