

Only You

Markus Feehily

I remember crashing down
Losing touch with all I'd found
Seeking solace in your open arms
Searching for sobriety
Making friends with enemies
Foolish me...

Lights were blinding everything around me
I couldn't but I see ya now
And for that I'm sorry

Cause it was always you, you, you
Only you, only you
Only you, you, you
Only you, only you

All this time we wasted I,
Wish that we could just rewind
Believe me I would if it was possible
Longing for sincerity when all along in front of me... yeah
It was only you, only you

Lights were blinding everything around me
I couldn't but I see ya now
And for that I'm sorry

Cause it was always you, you, you
Only you, only you
Only you, you, you
Only you, only you

How many times in life could I keep on falling over?
So many times before I learnt, oh
I'm gonna tell you for the rest of your life

That it was always you, you, you
Only you, only you
Only you, (it was only) you, (it was only) you
It was only you, only you

It was only you, you, (it was only) you
It was only you, only you
It was only you
