

Forever Young

Marlisa

Many hearts knocked on my door when I needed more
Many scars lined up the walls from the one before so

Aaah... won't listen to your rambles no
Aaah... won't settle for nothing but gold

Oh baby I know you'll find a way
So open your eyes I'm waiting here
Just take my hand the darkest clouds
Don't mean the end

Oh open your heart and fly away
Gotta turn that spark into a flame
So we can start again

From the embers we'll rise up
Like the world has just begun
And we'll be forever young
(And we'll be forever young)
And we'll be forever young
(And we'll be forever young)
And we'll be forever young
Young...

Many stars fell from the sky
On the darkest nights
Many times we crashed and burned
But we had to learn so

Aaah... I won't run when the earthquake trembles
Aaah... I won't flee when the forest burns

Oh baby I know you'll find a way
So open your eyes I'm waiting here
Just take my hand the darkest clouds
Don't mean the end

Oh open your heart and fly away
Gotta turn that spark into a flame
So we can start again

From the embers we'll rise up
Like the world has just begun
And we'll be forever young
(And we'll be forever young)
And we'll be forever young
(And we'll be forever young)
And we'll be forever young
Young...
