Never Forget

Marlisa

Who would've thought
That I would be standing right here
It's shameful to think that
No one else believed in me
Who would've thought
That nights could be genuinely warm
That I would be able to dance and sing
So easily

It doesn't matter anyway
It doesn't change a thing
No no no no no

I will never forget
It's playing in my head
I feel it all again
You can try all you want
To tear me apart
My heart ain't scarred

It's funny how when
I rise and you come running back to me
Pretending you cared but you never
You never held my hand
Now I won't look back
Cos I know that's all in the past
Could've been better than that
What we, we could have had

It doesn't matter anyway
It doesn't change a thing
No no no no no

I will never forget
It's playing in my head
I feel it all again
You can try all you want
To tear me apart
My heart ain't scarred

Oh I can see you over there
But it's time to leave

Who would've thought
That I would be standing right here
No no no no no

I will never forget
It's playing in my head
I feel it all again
You can try all you want
To tear me apart
My heart ain't scarred
