

Nothing Without You

Mars Argo

When I lost my voice last night, I knew
I don't deserve you
When I'm always right I bend the truth
It only hurts because it's true
Let's pretend I can fool you like I fooled them
We'll be together and you'll always be my best friend
Why can't I be satisfied like them?

What's your name, boy?
What's your name, girl?
What's your name, child?
What's your name?

Who are you? Where did you go?
Who are you? Where did you, did you, did you...

When I lost my voice last night, I knew
I don't deserve you
When I'm always right, I bend the truth
It only hurts because it's true
A friendly blackout, another daze
I hope you will forget me and I hope it's just a phase
I am so predictable these days

What's your name, boy?
What's your name, girl?
What's your name, child?
What's your name?

Who are you? Where did you go?
Who are you? Where did you, did you, did you...

When I lost my voice last night, I knew
I want to love you, I haven't yet
I want to feel you in me for the first time again
Will you save me from these voices in my head?

Who are you? Where did you go?
Who are you? Where did you, did you, did you...
Who are you? Where did you go?
Who are you? Where did you, did you, did you...
