

Cloudy With A Chance Of ...Real

Marsha Ambrosius

It was all a dream
I used to wake up with you next to me
It was heaven
And never did I think to let it be
Sad to see it all go wrong
Something on my had to let it off

What would it take to make you feel
That you can't live without me?
Nothing but blue skies when I have you near Without you here it's partly cloudy

Feels like this is somebody else's
Living this pain right through me
And I carry the weight of this rain falling down
And it's oh so lonely

I told you that my love was real
What did I do to make you doubt me?
Such a reputation they say
And all the rumors they hear about me

Tried to play it cool from the start
So I played me
I tried to play the rules with my heart
But you blame me
And I carry the weight of the world
Oh so lonely

So lonely
Mmm, so let it be
So let me breathe, yeah, oh

Paradise our destiny
Exactly where I need to be
I'm here with you, you're here with me
In another galaxy
Feeling so light, ooh, this so right
When I look into your eyes
When I look into your eyes, baby
Look into your eyes
Ooh it's paradise, baby
