Why you always flexing on the 'Gram for?
We already know that it ain't really your [?]
Claiming you an actress and a model
But we can tell your life don't match your bio

Got a bunch of followers, no likes
Tell me was it really worth that price?
That don't even matter in real life
Whatever helps you sleep at night

It ain't none of my business, I just think it's funny
Why you do all that? You ain't gotta do all that
I just think it's funny
If you got it like that, you ain't gotta front like that
I just think it's funny
Where the real ones at? Tell me where the real ones at
I just think it's funny, I just think it's funny
I ain't tripping off it cause
I just think it's funny how some things change
Everybody think they famous these days
I just keep it pushing, stay in my lame
I just think it's funny, you acting hella funny

You can keep on faking and just play dumb
But we both know you never been my day one
You the type to screenshot conversations
And post it just to get you some attention

Got a bunch of followers, no likes
Tell me was it really worth that price?
That don't even matter in real life
Whatever helps you sleep at night

It ain't none of my business, I just think it's funny
Why you do all that? You ain't gotta do all that

I just think it's funny how some things change
Everybody think they famous these days
I just keep it pushing, stay in my lame
I just think it's funny, you acting hella funny

Don't waste your time doing too much
I know you're trying to find yourself
Don't waste your time doing too much
I know you're tired, I'm only being honest

I just think it's funny
Why you do all that? You ain't gotta do all that
I just think it's funny
If you got it like that, you ain't gotta front like that
I just think it's funny
Where the real ones at? Tell me where the real ones at
