I don't mind being left behind
I no longer care where the sound is coming from
I can't hear the tears in your eyes
I am always, always in disguise

I wanna make an arrest And stop time and this test And lie down in the road And you're still at home And you're still at home

Pavement is changing under my feet
I no longer walk with chin high or skip to the beat
I need to lie down
It's terminal, see
I'm feelin' the pain
I've got the disease

Oh, I wanna make an arrest And stop time and this test And lie down in the road And you're still at home And you're still at home

Take off your shoes
And stay awhile
I've been here waitin' to see your smile
Summer's comin' and the night's are long
I've been here listenin', cryin' to your song

Oh, I wanna make an arrest And stop time and this test And lie down in the road And you're still at home And you're still at home

Running against the clock
Color blind all this time
I went for a ride
And I left your side
Now I'm in the lost and found
And you're not around
And there's no one I can see who can help me

I wanna make an arrest And stop time and this test And lie down in the road And you're still at home

I wanna make an arrest And stop time and this test And pick up the phone And you're still at home And you're still at home...
