

Sometimes

Martha Wainwright

Sometimes, every once in a while there's a vision I want to appear

Sometimes, every once in a while there's a sound I want to hear
I know every once in a while I feel the things I fear

Sometimes, every once in a while you are not near

I know, I know, I know, I know, I know, I know

I'll never believe in you again

Like I never touched your skin

Like my voice was a little too thin

Like my love was not that strong

How long does this go on?

How long does this go on?

Sometimes, every once in a while I get the feeling that I just don't care

Sometimes, every once in a while love is in the air

I know every once in a while you're bound to break my back

But sometimes, every once in a while I've learned to fight back

And I know, I know, I know, I know, I know, I know

I'll never believe in you again

Like I never touched your skin

Like my voice was a little too thin

Like my love was always wrong

How long does this go on?

How long does this go on?

My love, my love, my love, my love is not, is not easy

It's like a child, child, child, it's mean and wild and

Oh, you break my heart

Tearing it apart

I know, know, know, know, know, know, know

Sometimes, every once in a while I get the feeling that I just don't care

Sometimes, every once in a while love is in the air

I know every once in a while you're bound to break my back

Sometimes, every once in a while I've learned to fight back

I know, I know, I know, I know, I know, I know, I know, I know

I'll never believe in you again

Like I never touched your skin

How long does this go on?

How long does this go on?

How long does this go on?

How long does this go on?
