

16 Steps

Martin Jensen

Lately I feel like I've been selling
Half of my soul to feel your love
I gave all of my faith to someone
Whose body is all that I know
Lately I feel like I've been feeling
Something you don't, so help me
Gotta pull you in close but I know
That I should be letting you go

A mess with it, a mess without it
I go down either way
Endless shots and countless hours
I wonder 'bout your place

It's only 16 steps from your door to your bed
I should know better with your body next to mine
Can't help myself, help myself (only 16 steps)

It's only 16 steps from your door to your bed
I should know better with your body next to mine
Can't help myself, help myself (only 16 steps)

Take me in slowly, hold me down and Swallow your prayers, just spit me out
I wanna believe something that's
Different from what I've been told
(Different from what I've been told)
Take all my doubts so I can really
Be with you now and let my body
Really believe something that's Different than letting you go (letting you go)

A mess with it, a mess without it
I go down either way
Endless shots and countless hours
I wonder 'bout your place

It's only 16 steps from your door to your bed
I should know better with your body next to mine
Can't help myself, help myself (only 16 steps)

It's only 16 steps from your door to your bed
I should know better with your body next to mine
Can't help myself, help myself (only 16 steps)

Only 16 steps
Only 16 steps
Only 16 steps
Only 16 steps

A mess with it, a mess without it
I go down either way
Endless shots and countless hours
I wonder 'bout your place

It's only 16 steps from your door to your bed
I should know better with your body next to mine

Can't help myself, help myself (only 16 steps)

It's only 16 steps from your door to your bed
I should know better with your body next to mine
Can't help myself, help myself (only 16 steps)

Only 16 steps
Only 16 steps
Only 16 steps
Only 16 steps
