

Good Girl

Martin Jondo

She didn't go out in the night
She didn't communicate, became a mite
When everybody was going to a party
When everybody was out to have their fun
She stayed at home 'cause she was lonely
She only knew a black sun

She became addicted to cocaine
She thought it was her friend but in vain
She drank too much devils water oh alcohol
She didn't know she was loosing her soul

But she was a good good good good girl
And if there was anyone who talked to her
She would be still in this world

But she was a good good good good girl
And if there was anyone who talked to her
She would be still in this world
Still in this world
But now she has, now she has
Gone away
Now she has, now she has
Gone away
Now she has, now she has
But now she has gone away
Now she has, now she has
Gone away

She doesn't go out of my mind
Eventough she is gone for such a long time
But you remind me of that lady
That lady I have seen who was drunk
Lord why didn't I talked to that lady
Today I heard that she is gone

But she was a good good good good girl
And if there was anyone who talked to her
She would be still in this world

But she was a good good good good girl
And if there was anyone who talked to her
She would be still in this world
Still in this world
But now she has, now she has
Gone away
Now she has, now she has
Gone away
Now she has, now she has
But now she has gone away
Now she has, now she has
Gone away
