Don't you miss me a little bit baby

Marvin Gaye

I hear you're telling everybody
That you're glad I'm gone
Do you tell them how you cried
Whenever you were all alone

We both know for us
There'll never, never be another
So forget about your foolish pride
And let's get back together

Listen
Who cares who was right or wrong
I just know I need you
And by your side is where I belong

Don't you miss me a little bit baby
'Cause I'm missing you
Say you miss me a little bit baby

You think you take me back
People will call you a fool
Deep down inside you know you need me
As much as I need you

Because of your pride
You're letting two hearts suffer
Baby can't you see
You're only making things tougher

Who cares who was right or wrong
I just need you baby
'Cause by your side is where I belong

Don't you miss me a little bit baby
Please tell me that you do
Say you miss me a little bit baby

Girl, I walk these streets day and night
Alone and downhearted
Every doggone day baby
Since we've been parted

Aimlessly with no sense of direction
Baby I'm trying to tell you
I need your sweet love and affection
Yes I do (yes I do)
Can't make it without you (I need you)
Oh yeah (yes I do)

This loneliness and separation
Makes too high a price to pay
When two people love each other the way we do
Should nothing stand in their way

You're making a mountain out of a molehill
Because of your pride
You're letting a little misunderstanding

Push true love aside

Who cares who was right or wrong
Just say you want me back baby
And I come running, running back home

Don't you miss me a little bit baby

Who cares who was right or wrong
Just say you want me back baby
And I come running, running back home
