

He Is Here

Marvin Sapp

Standing alone in hopeless desperation
Growing weary from the fight
With the darkest fate, oh it'll last forever
There is no hope in sight
Though it seems the night is taking over
Just believe and it will pass
Put your hand in the hand of the saviour
I know your sorrow will not last

All your life you waited for this moment
Free your mind to walk a life abundant
But if you walk away you'll lose all that's been promised
You'll never find this piece of mind
So just hear me when I say

God is waiting now to relieve your aching heart
He is here, his arms are open wide
He is here
Trust and believe; he's never very far
He is here, don't you be alarmed
He is here

Jesus said, he would be with you always
He will never leave your side
If you just trust him he will be a beacon
He will guide you through the night
And all your life you

All your life you've been waiting for this moment
Free your mind to walk a life abundant
But if you walk away you'll lose what has been promised
You'll never find this piece of mind
So just hear me when I say

God is waiting now to relieve your aching heart
He is here, his arms are open wide
No need to be afraid
I know, I know that he is here
Trust and believe; he's never very far
He is here, no need to be alarmed
I know, I know, I know that he is here

God is waiting now to relieve your aching heart
He is here, his arms are open wide
He is here
Trust and believe; he's never very far
He is here, no need to be alarmed
He is here
