

Over and Over Again

Marvin Sapp

You gave me all that You were able to give
And died upon the cross that I might live
You bore my hurt and You wiped my tears away
And loosed the shackles I was in and You cleansed me of my sins

And I must say thank You
For the things You have done for me
But I wanna know

Why do You keep on loving me over and over again?
After all I've done wrong, Your love still goes on
How can You keep on blessing me over and over again?
Your love is unconditional, it must be

When I felt alone, You came and stayed right there
My weakest moments showed me that You cared
You comfort me in my time of pain and need
In You I have assurance, when in despair You bring relief

And I must say thank you
For the things You have done me
But I wanna know

Why do You keep on loving me over and over again?
After all I've done wrong, Your love still goes on
How can You keep on blessing me over and over again?
Your love is unconditional, it must be

You keep on loving me in spite of what You see
Over and over again
Your love it never ends, forgive of my sins
Patiently, faithfully

How can You keep on loving me over and over again?
After all I've done wrong, Your love still goes on
Why do You keep on blessing me over and over again?
Your love is unconditional, it must be

You keep on loving
(Over and over)
You keep on loving
(Over and over)
You keep on loving me over and over again
You keep on loving me over again

You keep loving me
(Over and over)
You keep on blessing me
(Over and over)
In spite of what You see, in spite of what I do
You just step right in and bless me

(Over and over)
You keep on loving me
(Over and over)
You keep on forgiving me over and over
You keep forgiving me over and over

You keep on forgiving me
(Over and over)
In spite of what You see
(Over and over)
That's why I love You, that's why I love You
That's why I care so much about You

You keep on blessing me
You keep on loving me
