

False from True

Mary Gauthier

Jagged edges broken parts
Where you end and where I start
Got so tangled up in you
I can't tell false from true
You woke up inside a cage
I woke up consumed with rage
A million miles from our first kiss
How does love turn into this?

A stranger showed up in your eyes
Hard as steel, cold as ice
I tried and tried but I could not break through
There's two of you and one don't feel
And I don't know which one is real
Loving you has left me black and blue
I can't tell false from true

Where'd you go where are you now?
Can you feel my heart somehow?
Still so full of love you
But it can't tell false from true

A stranger showed up in your eyes
Hard as steel, cold as ice
I tried and tried but I could not break through
There's two of you and one don't feel
And I don't know which one is real
Loving you has left me black and blue
I can't tell false from true
I can't tell false from true
