

I'll Be What You Need

Mary Hopkin

You're a bird, flying free
I'm an ever rooted tree
You'll come down eventually
And I'll be what you need

You're a ship, lost at night
I'm a beacon burning bright
When you need a guiding light
I'll be what you need

So why do we struggle on
Trying to fight the world alone
When we can be strong
So strong
And together we can weather any storm
Make a new start
Face a new dawn

Like a willow, in the wind
I will sway and I will bend
'Til the skies be calm again
I'll be what you need

So why do we struggle on
Trying to fight the world alone
When we can be strong
So strong
And together we can weather any storm
Make a new start
Face a new dawn

You're a grain of golden sand
I feel you slipping through my hand
Will you never understand
I'll be what you need

I am the one
I am the one
The one you need
Oh
I'll be what you need
