

Superpowers

Mary J. Blige

You know there comes a time in every woman's life
That she should be celebrated
And at that time she should have all the flowers
You understand what I'm saying?

Boy, I want all the flowers
That's right
Because of my superpowers
Bet I can make your heart dance
Make you feel like a super man

I deserve a hundred red roses
Bottle all this love up like some potion
And rub me on your body like some lotion
Boy, you got it dripping like an ocean
Yeah, yeah, yeah
You know you got a real one, I need to hear you say it
Matter fact, the rent due, I'ma let you pay it
You watching how I'm moving, and you thinkin' I'm the greatest
I can make your name forever famous

And I know you always think of me
I be all on your mind
Mind
I take care of all your wants and needs
I do it for you every time

Boy, I want all the flowers
All
Because of my superpowers
Bet I can make your heart dance
Dance
Make you feel like a super man
Ooh, I
I should have all the flowers
All
Because of my superpowers
I got magic in my hands
You won't find one like me again

Can't escape from all this temptation
Moving in a whole different vibration
You know that I'm the one
One
And I don't don't do basic
No
You give me all your time, it's never wasted
I don't be playing when I come through, I just kill them just for fun
Boy, I do it different 'cause I ain't just anyone
Ain't nothing about me underrated
When you look this good, you should be celebrated

And I know you always think of me
I be all on your mind
Mind
I take care of all your wants and needs
I do it for you every time

Boy, I want all the flowers
All the flowers
Because of my superpowers
My superpowers
Bet I can make your heart dance
I can make your heart dance
Make you feel like a super man
Super man
I should have all the flowers
All the flowers
Because of my superpowers
I got magic in my hands
I got magic in my hands
You won't find one like me again
Never again
