

Dominoes

Mary MacGregor

Dominoes, game I play when I'm made to think
Home from work, another day, guess I'll have that drink
Because now I see, though our love's reached an end
All the way through you stay, my friend
It's for you I can fall in love again

Turn me loose, in a world I have never known, all alone
I feel strong, I knew I could make my way, on my own
Now I see, though our love's reached an end
All the way through you stay, my friend
It's for you I can fall in love again

Doesn't have to be the other way
Where everyone gets lost in the sand
I never should've loved you anyway
But no one really means it, it's just a front for words
The ones that go unspoken, forgot and unheard

Dominoes, the game I play when the night falls deep
Home from work, another day, but it's easy to sleep
Because now I see, though our love's reached an end
All the way through you stay, my friend
It's for you I can fall in love

Because of you I can fall in love
It's for you I can fall in love again
