

Somebody Please

Mary MacGregor

Last night I let my heart down
I said I'd never go round
Love's crazy world again
I'd stick to games that I could win
I saw him standing so cool
Hops out in search of new fools
I volunteer for heartaches
But here I am, and it's almost daybreak

Somebody please, help me try and get it right tonight
I'm on my knees, nothing makes sense in the morning light

It's just another day now
I know I'll get by somehow
It just don't seem to help
When I wake up near by myself
Day dreamin' just don't get it
But Lord, I can't forget him
I need love, I'm no stranger
Take it slow, 'cause I'm no short-changer

Somebody please, help me try and get it right tonight
I'm on my knees, nothing makes sense in the morning light
Somebody please, help me try and get it right tonight
I'm on my knees, nothing makes sense in the morning light
Somebody please, help me try and get it right tonight
I'm on my knees, nothing makes sense in the morning light
