Mashonda

Ya'll, this is Mashonda for Full Surface
C'mon
This is a DJ Finesse exclusive

You said that you never would leave me you said that you never would go

But every time I turned around you always walking out the door
You told me that I was your only and that you would always be there

But lately you've been lying and that won't get you anywhere

Thinking about the times

Times you used to hold me, kiss me, tell me "I'm your baby"

Thinking about the times

Times you used to touch me, confess me, boy you only drive me crazy

So now, ya want no work things out cause

You know that I'm all that you have

And all them other girls out there

You know that they just can't compare

But I'm not taking you back now cause

There's somebody else on my mind

And maybe unlike you [?] just not wasted all my time

Thinking about the times

Times you used to hold me, kiss me, tell me "I'm your baby"

Thinking about the times

Times you used to touch me, confess me, boy you know you drive
me crazy

Thinking about the times

Times you used to hold me, kiss me, tell me "I'm your baby"

Thinking about the times

me crazy
