

Still Always on My Mind

Masked Intruder

I've been dreaming about you every night
Or otherwise tossing and turning and burning to be by your side
In either case, the takeaway is the same, you realize:
That you're still always on my mind

I heard every word that you said to the judge
And honestly baby, it once drove me crazy but now it don't bug me much

I'm sorry to repeat myself, but I really should emphasize
That you're still always on my mind
It's been so long since that fateful day
You called and had me hauled away
But I still can't forget so much as an inch of your silhouette
Oh my best guess, darling, is I never will

It's been so long since that fateful day
You called and had me hauled away
But I still can't forget so much as an inch of your silhouette
Oh my best guess, darling, is I never will

I'm still dreaming about you every night
Or otherwise tossing and turning and burning to be by your side
In either case, the takeaway is the same, you realize:
That you're still always on my mind
Yeah I'm sorry to repeat myself, but I really should emphasize That you're always on my mind
Yeah, you're still always on my mind
Yeah, you're still always on...
