

The Ones

Masked Wolf

This for the ones that need a little hope and feeling let out
This for the ones that feel electric like a Tesla
This for the ones scraping pulling strings like a Fender
This for the ones that still remain just remember

No matter the turf, you should know your worth
You should know in life most of us we get hit first
Mental imprint on my face only knew the dirt
Had to relocate uh should have gone church uh

I've been praying freedom
I know we all need it
I know you gotta get your bag and that shit comes with demons
Know you gotta forget your past but that shit defines why you breathi ng
Know you gotta live and learn mistakes shouldn't make a secret

This for the ones that need a little hope and feeling let out
This for the ones that feel electric like a Tesla
This for the ones scraping pulling strings like a Fender
This for the ones that still remain just remember

This for the ones that need a little hope and feeling let out
This for the ones that feel electric like a Tesla
This for the ones scraping pulling strings like a Fender
This for the ones that still remain just remember

Philosophical mindset
Cogs keep on turning but how well is your time spent
My brain keeps on burning but I know I'll never mind it
I don't try before I buy because everything is priceless

A smile the wind in chilling in nature
Try and be cool like a glacier
But went I faced with a traitor
Talk to the Heavenly Maker
Pause we needed time to breathe need time to vent
Ain't it funny the rarest thing we use in life is common sense
That's fax

This for the ones that need a little hope and feeling let out
This for the ones that feel electric like a Tesla
This for the ones scraping pulling strings like a Fender
This for the ones that still remain just remember
