

Night Skies

Massive Wagons

It's a struggle waking up in the morning
I'm sick of giving over my time
I'm always thinking I'm going nowhere
That's life
It's a struggle when I'm pulling a face on
I always find I'm being socially fried
I'm in trouble but I'm optimistic
That's life

I'm taking all my negative output
Sell it to anyone who buys
When it's impossible to find a use for my life

Maybe we can go where the others
Will never dare to go
And I can fly through the cloud veil
While people watch below

I'm your everyday regular stresshead
I'm an all the time unreasonable guy
It's a struggle being this ridiculous
That's life
I'm impossible to make unhappy
Cause I'm the happiest of happiest guys
But I struggle trying to find a smile that fits my life

I'm living up on cloud number eight now
With a view to purchase cloud number nine
There's room for both of us over here for a while
That's fine

Maybe we can go where the others
Will never dare to go
And I can fly through the cloud veil
While people watch below

Night skies
Undulate my mind
Night skies
I won't let you go

The silence of my sky
Will keep me safe
While I'm awake
With the fall from earth to grace
From heaven it looks like you're doing okay

Maybe we can go where the others
Will never dare to go
And I can fly through the cloud veil
While people watch below

Night skies
Undulate my mind
Night skies
I won't let you go

Maybe we can go where the others
Will never dare to go
And I can fly through the cloud veil
While people watch below
