

Replaced

Master

As two worlds collide, with violence and force
Can one man decide, a unanimous voice
A great contradiction we're left in this mess
The public opinion was never discussed

The silent machines the people removed
There are no more screams no longer abused
Peer into that void, it's just an empty space
There is no noise you've all been replaced

Their power and their glory the political farce
Reluctant yet ornery right from the start
If you look in that face, all conjecture aside
Nothing's been betrayed, it's all based on lies

As two worlds collide, with violence and force
Can one man decide, a unanimous voice

Their power and their glory the political farce
Reluctant yet ornery right from the start
If you look in that face, all conjecture aside
Nothing's been betrayed, it's all based on lies