

Novum Initium

Masterplan

I came within a whisper feeling this road is blackening as coal control the urge to scream and shout But something keeps me locked out

I know I never let you go
You can't run away from your lies

Chasing all shadows - we're alone in the dark

Screaming
Whispering

Here I stand with pain and fear Close to the edge of losing all again no one cares what I'll decide Only God knows what's wrong or right

I can feel it coming down again and again a day to day battle between good and evil

This road I remember was ready to pave, but you are a sinner born lost and depraved
you suffered a setback to achieve all your goals rip out the pages, let your life unfold

Screaming
Whispering
Craving
Deceiving

Aaah...Life is changing to a side you've never seen before
Oh life moves on - in so many ways
Please don't tell me I was always sick and wrong, what I was looking for so long And any child can see that I am standing on the edge on the lonely - on the lonely side with a lonely cry

I can see burden, no time for mourning he can't take it no more you will try but you will never find the way to carry on I will burn, I will never learn, the pain you put me through, the way I had to go no way you're ever gonna catch me, nooo

Chasing all shadows - we're alone in the dark

This road I remember was ready to pave,
but you are a sinner born lost and depraved
you suffered a setback to achieve all your goals
rip out the pages, let your life unfold

Life is changing to a side you've never seen before
Oh life moves on - in so many ways
Please don't tell me I was always sick and wrong,
what I was looking for so long

And any child can see that I am standing on the soil
