Mat Kearney

My best friend never had a lot of money
He met a girl and he just kept runnin'
She had a fire and it just kept blazin'
Tried and tried and just couldn't tame it

And he called last night
Said she's gone
I'm alright but I'm all alone
Growing up breaks you down
All the leaves have fallen to the ground

And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes

I found out in the couch in the basement
The kind of day where it just doesn't stop rainin'
It's not you're fault they just kept saying
Tried and tried but we just couldn't make it

And I drove that night
No place to go
Got so high but I felt so low
Growing up breaks you down
All the leaves have fallen to the ground

And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes

My best friend never had a lot of money
He met a girl and he never saw it coming
He found a love that just kept blazin'
Tried and tried and just couldn't shake it

And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
And everything changes
