

Save Me

Mat Kearney

I've been on the run for half my life
Tryna tame the sun and raise the night
Over mountains and across the fields of gold
On my own
A man needs something he can hold onto
But that means nothing if he's scared to choose
If there's one thing that I can't lose
It's your love, alone

Save me, save me, can't you hear me calling?
I keep waiting, waiting for you to come and change me
Take me, take me, down to the river
Wash me in the water again

All the way down
Back to where my heart is
All the way round
Back to where we started

There's a gravity in your kiss
And galaxies in your fingertips
There's a fire burning on your lips
While my soul's running cold

Save me, save me, can't you hear me calling?
I keep waiting, waiting for you to come and change me
Take me, take me, down to the river
Wash me in the water again

All the way down
Back to where my heart is
All the way round
Back to where we started

Ooh
I'm tryna find your light, tryna find your light
Tryna find your light, tryna find your light
Tryna find your light, tryna find your light
I'm tryna find your light, tryna find your light
I'm tryna find your light, I'm tryna find your light
I'm tryna find your light, I'm tryna find your light
I'm tryna find your light, I'm tryna find your light
I'm tryna find your light, I'm tryna find your light

Save me, save me, can't you hear me calling?
I keep waiting, waiting for you to come and change me
Take me, take me, down to the river
Wash me in the water again

All the way down
Back to where my heart is
All the way round
Back to where we started
